

The Evil Agenda Behind the Transgender Movement

Two billionaires Pritzker and Rothblatt are behind the promotion of transgenderism. If they can confuse a child about gender before he or she hits puberty, it means greater financial gains for them. Because both men have a stake in the trans-medical industrial complex, if they can confuse children when they are very young (elementary school age), they can profit off puberty blockers in addition to life-long hormone treatments and countless surgeries at the gender clinics they're invested in.
